STILL AFTER SUGAR TRUST

Government Continues Fight on the Combine.

MUST PRODUCE AGREEMENTS

New York Federal Grand Jury Hands Up a Presentment for Contempt Against the American Sugar Refining Company for Failing to Produce Books and Papers in Response to a Subpoena.

New York, March 4.—Not satisfied with the millions received in payment of duty evaded by short weights, involving the indictment of the company's secretary, Charles R. Heike, and the conviction of minor employees, the United States government is still fighting hard to crush the American Sugar Refining company under provisions of the Sherman anti-trust act. Such action was contemplated when the company was indicted for putting the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company out of business, but the settlement of that suit out of court and the interference of the statute of limitations necessitated another legal tack and the matter was laid before the federal grand jury in New York early in January.

Not until now, however, did the scope of the inquiry become public, when the grand jury handed up a presentment for contempt against the company for the latter's failure to produce certain books and papers in response to subpoena. This presentment in itself is but a move of the government to ascertain its right to the books in question, but its handing up incidentally disclosed the nature of the papers demanded and afforded a key to the broadness of the government's procedure.

Must Produce Agreements. It has been alleged that the American Sugar Refining company controls 90 per cent of the sugar business in this country and a hint of its intricate relations with various subsidiary corporations is given in the subpoena. It demands, among other things, the production of all agreements and other instruments "made by or to the American Sugar Refining company, or any officer thereof, with any other person or corporation in and about the purchase of said company of stock in forty-four companies."

The order to show cause why the "trust" should not be adjudged in contempt will be signed next week. James M. Black, counsel for the company, issued a statement explaining the company's attitude. He said: "My client has no intention to obstruct the inquiry now before the grand jury. The United States attorney caused a subpoena addressed to the American Sugar Refining company to be served upon Charles R. Heike, secretary of the company, to produce certain books and documents. The secretary appeared before the grand jury with the letters and documents in question, but the United States attorney insisted upon the surrender to him of the books and documents without his being sworn."

"As the question is a novel one we both thought that it should be submitted to the court for its decision and such was the purpose of the presentment."

SHARPLY CRITICISE BILL
Senators Defer Action on Postal Savings Bank Measure.

Washington, March 4.—Taking advantage of the privilege reserved in its agreement concerning the vote on the administration postal savings bank bill the senate took a recess without disposing of the measure. The bill was under general discussion under the guise of considering amendments and it was sharply criticised by many senators.

A large number of amendments were adopted, most of them along lines heretofore agreed upon.

Miller Defeats Adamson.

St. Paul, March 4.—"Young" Miller of St. Paul, in what was unquestionably the fiercest struggle ever seen on a wrestling mat in this city, took two straight falls from Ed Adamson of Chicago, a man whom he has met four times and who threw him in the only fall he ever lost. It took Miller fifty-one minutes to get the first fall and twenty-eight minutes to get the second.

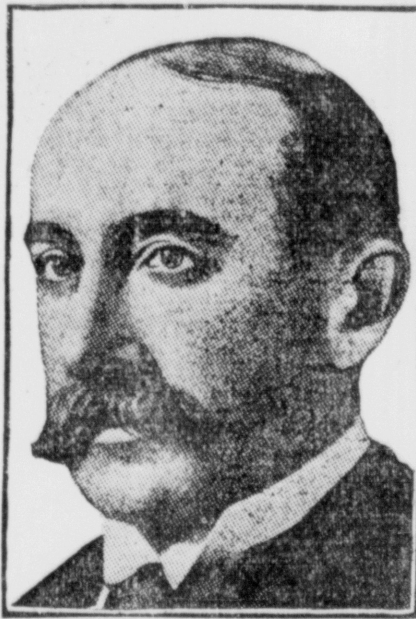

Old Trapper Commits Suicide.

Couderay, Wis., March 4.—Ed Casey, an old trapper and recluse living near Winter, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with his rifle. He lived in a trapper's cabin, far from neighbors, and when found his head had to be chopped loose from the ice of a shed where he had killed himself and had fallen into a pool of water.

Bronx River.
The Bronx river, New York, derives its name from Jonts Bronx, who settled in that region in 1639.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND.

May Be Summoned Before the House Judiciary Committee.

IGNORED BY THE COUNCILS

Those of Philadelphia Take No Action on Strike of Carmen.

Philadelphia, March 4.—For the first time in five years the citizens were excluded from the sessions of their chosen representatives. An hour before the time of convening the select and common council a vast crowd gathered on the fourth floor of the city hall, but policemen kept all save the councilmen, reporters and a few privileged persons outside the gate which leads to the council chambers.

The strike was practically ignored by both bodies. A message from Mayor Reubyn reviewed the situation briefly and stated his policy of non-interference. That the councils were in entire accord with the views of the mayor was made evident by the absence of any action or discussion relative to the crisis. Several petitions from business men's associations and trade organizations bearing on the strike were heard without comment.

TORRENTS SWEEP DOWN THE CANYONS

Tear Out Bridges and Cripple Railroad Traffic.

Butte, Mont., March 4.—Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound, the Northern Pacific and Butte, Anaconda and Pacific railroads are indefinitely swept up west of this city by torrents sweeping down Silver Bow canyon of such force as to tear out big piles faster than they can be driven to replace washed out bridges.

The St. Paul road is also tied up east of Butte, and all freight traffic in and out of Butte is at a standstill except on the Oregon Short Line. All Northern Pacific trains are being detoured via Helena. The St. Paul road has not had a train into Butte from Missoula for three days and none from the coast in more than ten days. Deer Lodge river is a raging torrent with water running high and ice gorges on both sides of Garrison.

Most of the rivers of Western Washington overflowed their banks and continue to rise, high temperatures melting the mountain snow. The forecast is for warm weather through Washington and light rain on Puget sound. All lowlands between Seattle and Tacoma are submerged, forming an enormous inland sea. The flood came so gradually that no loss of live stock occurred.

QUITS ACTIVE BUSINESS

Young Rockefeller to Manage His Father's Benefactions.

New York, March 4.—Among charities the new Rockefeller foundation is to become what the Standard Oil company has long been among corporations, and John D. Rockefeller, Sr., as its head, will in another sphere of influence perpetuate the domination so long maintained in the world of industry by John D. Rockefeller, Sr., as the president of the Standard Oil.

The younger Rockefeller announced that he had recently retired from the directorate of the Standard to assume the management of his father's benefactions, of which he thus becomes almoner in chief. No successor has been named to fill his place in the oil company.

One Killed and Thirty Injured.

Spokane, Wash., March 4.—One person was killed and probably thirty injured when the Great Northern Oriental Limited, eastbound, crashed into a mass of snow and rock which blocked the track near Milan, Wash. Five Pullman cars rolled over an embankment and the rest of the train was saved by the conductor uncoupling the cars. Ed Miller, Hillyard, Wash., fireman, was killed.

Found With His Throat Cut.

Campbell, Minn., March 4.—John D. Welsh, a farmer of Maple Plaine, was found with his throat cut by a jack-knife at the Grand hotel here. Welsh is still alive but unconscious. He may recover.

STEENERSON ASKS INQUIRY

Claims Lobbyists Are Trying to Influence Legislation.

SHIP SUBSIDY MEN ACTIVE

Minnesota Congressman Asserts That They Have "Intimidated and Terrified" Those Who Are Opposed to the Subsidy Measure—John Hays Hammond and J. Sloat Fassett May Be Summoned Before Committee.

Washington, March 4.—John Hays Hammond, president of the National League of Republican clubs, and J. Sloat Fassett, representative in congress from the Thirty-third New York district, will be summoned to appear before the house committee on the judiciary to tell what they know about alleged improper methods said to have been adopted by certain persons to force the passage of a ship subsidy bill through the house at this session.

That committee complies with a request that will be made on it by Representative Halvor Steenserson of Minnesota. Mr. Steenserson is the author of the resolution introduced in the house directing the speaker to appoint a special committee to inquire into the charges that officers of the Merchant Marine league of Cleveland, O., have "conspired and federated together for the purpose of unduly and improperly influencing congress and the members thereof," in connection with subsidy legislation, "and creating hostility against all persons opposed" to this legislation.

In a statement Representative Steenserson made it clear that while he proposed to introduce the names of Mr. Hammond and Representative Fassett into the case, it was only for the purpose of adducing testimony from them that might tend to support the contention that a lobby had been formed, in one instance to further legislation, and in another, possibly, to place obstacles in its way. In fact, according to Mr. Steenserson, the information that Mr. Fassett has knowledge on the subject came direct from the New York member himself.

Will Summon Fassett.

After the resolution had been referred to the committee on the judiciary Mr. Steenserson said he was approached by Mr. Fassett. The latter stated that he had reason to believe that foreign steamship interests, with offices in New York, maintained a lobby in Washington for the purpose of defeating a ship subsidy bill. Mr. Steenserson said further that Mr. Fassett thereupon announced a purpose to offer a resolution directing an inquiry into this phase of the subject. "That will be unnecessary," Mr. Steenserson said he told Mr. Fassett. "My resolution is sufficient. I shall ask that you be summoned by the committee."

President Hammond of the League of Republican clubs, according to Mr. Steenserson, was induced to become interested in subsidy legislation. "I shall ask that he be invited to appear before the committee to tell what he may know as to the means adopted to further subsidy legislation," said Mr. Steenserson.

The Steenserson resolution is a warm document. It does not go into particulars, merely outlining in a general way that improper means are being utilized to press subsidy legislation and that "large sums of money have been and are being used and expended to employ writers for the press to prepare articles favorable to subsidy and to employ lobbyists to solicit and interview members on the matter and to pay campaign contributions to political party organizations and influence the election of members and others."

Representative Steenserson further charges that members who showed a disposition to fight subsidy legislation have been "intimidated and terrified" in an effort to force them to change their position.

Whether the Steenserson resolution will result in congress probing the subsidy "lobby" remains to be seen.

COURT ORDERS AN INQUIRY

Judge Landis Wants Investigation of Oleo Industry.

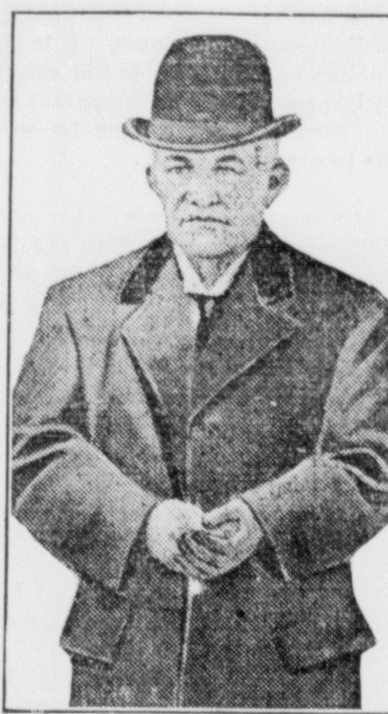

Chicago, March 4.—A federal grand jury investigation of the oleomargarine industry in this city was ordered by Judge K. M. Landis in the United States district court after the court had listened to testimony given by three men who had pleaded guilty to charges of violating the internal revenue law relating to the coloring of oleomargarine. The name of William J. Moxley, congressman from the Sixth Illinois district, as well as those of other prominent manufacturers of the product, figured in the hearing.

Pioneer Killed by Falling Tree.

Anoka, Minn., March 4.—Thomas Gorham of Burns was fatally injured while cutting down a large tree, which struck him in the back and broke his leg above the ankle, his death occurring a few hours later. He was born in Galway, Ireland, and came to the United States fifty-one years ago and to Anoka forty-five years ago.

CHARLES R. HEIKE.

Accused Official of the American Sugar Refining Company.

PROMINENT MEN INVOLVED

Systematic Insurance Swindle in the Twin Cities.

St. Paul, March 4.—Sensational developments are promised as a result of the investigation now being carried on by officers and agents of fraternal insurance societies doing business in Minnesota. State Insurance Commissioner J. A. Hartigan said that criminal prosecutions are certain and that arrests may be expected at any time.

Mr. Hartigan declined to give out the names of persons under suspicion and against whom evidence is being collected by his department and the attorney general. From another source, however, it was learned that complete disclosures will implicate several persons professionally and politically prominent in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

That a systematic conspiracy to defraud fraternal companies has been in successful operation for the past three years has been proved beyond doubt. Several instances were unearthed where substitution of parties has been made without detection.

EXPLOSION KILLS SCORE OF MINERS

Eight Others Injured, Four Probably Fatally.

Juneau, Alaska, March 4.—Twenty-three miners were killed by an explosion of a powder magazine in the 1,100-foot level of the Mexican mine, one of the group of Treadwell gold properties on Douglas Island. Eight men were seriously injured, of whom it is feared four will die.

The last shots had been fired by the shift of men twenty minutes before the explosion took place and the miners had assembled at the landing of the ship and were arranging to enter it and go on top. The magazine, which contained 275 pounds of powder, was thirty feet away from the place where the men were standing and every man was killed or injured. Most of the miners were foreigners.

The mine was little damaged. It is not known what caused the explosion.

CANNON THE GUEST OF TAFT

President Gives Dinner in Honor of Speaker.

Washington, March 4.—Only one Republican house insurgent was invited to the dinner given by President Taft in honor of Speaker Cannon. He was Representative Hayes of California, who was substituted for Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, who is out of town.

The house regulars were there in force, among them being Representative Tawney of Minnesota, Mann of Illinois and Smith of Iowa. Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin was present, as was Senator Brown of Nebraska. Socially and politically, the affair marked something of an epoch, for not before in many years has a president entertained in honor of the speaker of the house of representatives. Speaker Cannon was never entertained at the White House with an exclusive official function during all of the seven years of President Roosevelt's occupancy, and no previous affair has been given in his honor by President Taft.

Killed by a Train.

Winona, Minn., March 4.—Frank Utke, a farm laborer employed by John Pfeiffer of Dover, was killed by a Northwestern train near St. Charles while he was driving homeward. He had been warned that he was too drunk to try to make the trip.

Fall Fatal to Child.

Hampton, Minn., March 4.—Rose, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Doffing, sustained a fall on the schoolhouse stone steps, the injuries received resulting in her death shortly after the accident.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW.

Live Game Displays a Big Feature of Exhibition in New York.

The sixteenth annual exhibition of the Sportsmen's association recently opened at Madison Square Garden, New York, has many new features to please sportsmen generally. There will be basketball games every afternoon and evening, in which college, school and interscholastic teams will compete. The schoolboys will have their ride shooting tournament under the auspices of the Public Schools Athletic league. This tournament is for the elementary and high school championships, and it will be decided on sixteen targets placed in the basement. There will also be an indoor intercollegiate shooting tournament.

More than 150 guides from all the big hunting resorts of the United States will entertain visitors at their various camps. There are camps from different parts of Canada, con hunters in a camp representing Virginia and several thousand specimens of fur, fish and feathers from all parts of the world. The entire fleet of the Brooklyn Model Yacht club, consisting of fifty boats, is exhibited on the main floor. The Canadian government has an exhibit of live game animals from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. A very complete collection of pheasants gathered from all parts of the world is inclosed in a space occupying 800 square feet.

The largest collection of live cranes in the United States is another feature. These cranes have been secured from all over the world, many coming from the royal palaces of Europe. There is a collection of waterfowl housed in an inclosure covering 2,500 square feet, while rare species of African game birds and bleeding heart pigeons make the show the most complete from a sportsman's standpoint that has ever been presented to the public.

Railroad Not for Sale.

Rapid City, S. D., March 4.—That his company contemplates disposing of its thirty-one miles of railroad between this city and Mystic to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company is denied by W. E. Moore, general manager of the Rapid City, Black Hills and Western Railroad company. Mr. Moore says his own company will retain the line and extend it to the Wyoming coal fields.

Affected by Coal Gas.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 4.—When John G. Hewitson of this city awakened it was to find that his home was filled with coal gas and that every member of the family was more or less affected. He managed to open windows and doors and let in fresh air. The family was ill all day.

Decline to Arbitrate.

Baltimore, March 4.—By an almost unanimous vote the conductors and trainmen of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad have sustained the action of their general committee in rejecting the counter proposition of the company to their demand for higher wages and other concessions affecting the train service. President Willard's offer to submit the disputed question to arbitration was also overwhelmingly rejected. The men's committee will meet to decide whether a strike shall be declared.

Death List of Avalanche Victims Grows.

BODIES SHOCKINGLY MANGLED

Crushed Beneath Countless Tons of Snow, Ice and Huge Boulders—Believed That the Dead Are Strewn Through Acres of Debris and That Many of the Bodies Never Will Be Found.

Wellington, Wash., March 4.—Eighty-six names are now on the list of dead and missing passengers, trainmen and postal employees who were carried down by the avalanche that destroyed two Great Northern trains Tuesday morning. Statements of the number of laborers fighting the snow and who were sleeping on the ill fated trains vary from twenty to thirty. An estimate of 100 dead is conservative.

All the dead were residents of the Northwest. One of the injured, Rev. Bishop Winget of Chicago, was from the East. No one who has seen the wreckage has the slightest hope of finding any of the missing alive.

The explorations have uncovered none living and some of the bodies are shockingly mangled. An avalanche of dry snow might have covered its victims alive, but the gorge at Wellington is packed with wet snow, ice, trees and boulders of enormous weight. Two of the bodies recovered were those of electricians who were living in a cabin at the edge of Wellington and who were carried 300 feet down the slope.

All day a stream of men, packs strapped to their backs, wound about the mountain path from Skykomish to Seenie and Wellington, carrying food for the injured. Some are digging for the bodies of friends or relatives. A few were sightseers and were told they were not wanted.

Laborer Robbed Corpse.

A laborer was caught taking trinkets from a dead woman's body, and he was compelled to start down the trail at once.

One hundred and fifty men dug for bodies in the debris. Among the bodies found were those of former Prosecuting Attorney R. M. Barnhart of Spokane, Conductor J. L. Pettit, who, after a trip on foot to Skykomish, went back to his post, and Mrs. M. A. Covington of Olympia, who left Spokane to celebrate her golden wedding in Seattle.

If the searchers locate the Pullman cars intact they may take out many bodies in a short time, but it is likely that the dead are strewn through acres of debris. At the present rate of progress it will take weeks to recover all the bodies. After the track is opened, engines and tackle will lift the huge trees and boulders. There are no coffins in Wellington, and the dead, wrapped in blankets on the snow, are well preserved.

Snowplows and wrecking trains are working east from Skykomish. Superintendent O'Neill of the Great Northern said he expected the road to be in operation about April 1.

The Great Northern's costly experience with snow in the Cascades has caused renewal of the project to build a tunnel at a level of 1,000 feet lower than the present opening, with its west portal at Seenie Hot Springs. The proposed tunnel was surveyed years ago by European engineers and announced feasible.

Workers searching for bodies frequently find victims by following bloodstains through the snow. The melting snow has carried the stains down to the stream at the bottom of the gulch. Men with shovels, upon finding one of these crimson leads start at the edge of the stream and tunnel through the snow until they come to the body of a victim. The snow is packed like cement and the bodies that were not mangled by the wreckage of the cars were crushed by the weight of the icy mass.

It is feared that many of the bodies will never be recovered.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN A FOG

Two Minnesota Men Killed in Wreck in Illinois.

Decatur, Ill., March 4.—Three men were killed, one fatally hurt, and seven others severely injured on Illinois trains, one mile south of Ocoee, when two freight trains collided in a heavy fog. The dead are: Bert Kubet, stockman, Onamia, Minn.; Bert Uhl, stockman, Onamia, Minn.; Joseph Easley, brakeman, Clinton, Ill.

The severely injured are: Edward Kubet, stockman, Onamia, Minn., brother of Bert Kubet; Engineers John Mehan and John Reid, both of Clinton, Ill.

Accquitted of Arson Charge.

Rugby, N. D., March 4.—Jack Daly, charged with arson in the first degree, was acquitted by a jury here. Daly was the chief witness for the defense, making a point blank denial of all the evidence offered against him.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Saturday, moderate temperature.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1910.

Straw hats, wagons, shirt waists—and we await the robin. Spring surely must be hovering near.

Put it down in your note book, or make a notation on the calendar that is hanging on the kitchen wall near the clock, that Halley's comet will be visible to the naked eye in this section to early risers about the middle of April.

The Winnebago City Enterprise says the idea of the state fair paying the newspapers at regular rates for space in future instead of in state fair tickets looks good to the printer. Grand stand tickets won't pay the grocery and butcher bill.

Mary McFadden is the father, or mother, of woman's suffrage in Minnesota, and Mary may be governor some day providing the newspapers of the state support her candidacy, after the nomination is made by her party, as cheerfully as their editors endorsed her sentiment at the state meeting recently.

The opinion seems to prevail that the bill to repeal the law regarding the tax on colored oleomargarine is a bad measure and that its enactment would be a step backward, as under present conditions the people know exactly what they are buying and a removal of the tax would make it easy sailing to impose on the public. Besides, the dairymen of the country are entitled to some protection.

Col. Wm. Westerman, of St. Cloud, who has been continuously in the service of the McCormick Harvester Co. for forty years has been retired by that company with a handsome annual salary for the remainder of his life. That speaks well for the faithful services of the gentleman who is well known in this section and all over the northwest for that matter, and also for the firm that appreciates the efforts of its employees.

Gov. Eberhart's position on the county option question and the stand taken by him before the anti-saloon league convention in St. Paul was straight forward, there was no beating around the bush, and his attitude will be commended by his admirers. His position that while he could and would pledge himself to sign a county option bill when one has passed the legislature, he could not declare for county option in such a way as to seem to dictate the platform of his party, is certainly good common sense and he has gone as far as even the optionists themselves could reasonably expect. The question is a legislative and not a gubernatorial one. The people in favor of county option certainly wish a governor in the chair who will sign a bill if they are successful in getting one through the legislature, and the fight is now up to them to elect a legislature of that kind.

POLITICAL SIDE LIGHTS

The Minneapolis Tribune admits that P. H. McGarry "insists he has a chance to be elected congressman in the Sixth district."

The county option convention in St. Paul Wednesday is the start of what will be a spirited political scrap from now until the November election.

M. N. Koll, the Cass Lake man, and who was register of the land office there for some time, is thinking seriously of entering the legislative field in the 52d district.

Frank B. Kellogg is again a twin city visitor but he does not make the announcement that he is a candidate for United States senator. It is quite possible that Kellogg is not meeting with the symptoms of discontent with the present senator that he would like to see.

If any one tells you that M. M. Williams was appointed to the position on the board of regents of the state university because it was a good political move, you can remind them they have another guess coming. His appointment was on its merits, and because Mr. Williams was eminently fitted to fill that place.

The Lake Breeze takes a shot at the congressional situation in this manner: "Pat McGarry is an avowed candidate for congress against Lindbergh. McGarry is a hustler, a good campaigner, well-liked and will give the Sixth district statesmen some sleepless nights between now and the primaries. We look to see McGarry win."

W. W. Rich is back from Washington and he informs the twin city newspapers that he is not looking for John Peterson's place as collector of internal revenue. Mr. Rich says his health and an increase in salary are the two principal things he was looking after while on his eastern trip, that he is feeling well and has promise of an increase.

The temperance element in the county option ranks seem to be in sympathy with the success of the democratic party and the threat that unless the republican party and the candidate for governor do not declare for county option, the support of the anti-saloon league will be given to the democrats in the state campaign, would tend to strengthen the belief. This is without regard to whether the democrats are with them or not, the republicans are to be the subject of their wrath.

The Glenwood Gopher looks at the coming congressional scrap in this district as no joke and says in its last issue: "Some of Congressman Lindbergh's friends profess to think that the candidacy of P. H. McGarry is a joke. That's what many of the members of the last legislature thought when McGarry and Senator Gunn began the campaign for securing the location of a normal school at Cass Lake, but before they got through it was apparent that McGarry should be taken seriously, for he is a pretty live sort of a 'joke'."

Senator E. B. Hawkins, of Duluth, is quoted as stating that in his section of the country, the general impression of the people is that President Taft has made good, "and while he has been confronted with serious problems we see him meeting them in a way that shows he is a big, brainy man." The idea is not merely local with St. Louis county, but has permeated every section of Minnesota. While there may be those who honestly differ with the president in some things, in the main he has fulfilled the expectations of the people who elected him.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press grows facetious and says: "In days of old, when St. Cloud had the land office, and naturally St. Cloud men held the positions of register and receiver, and when Judge Collins was on the supreme bench and D. B. Searle was district judge, there used to be frequent remarks about the 'Hogishness' of St. Cloud. Of late years the Granite City has retired from the light of chief office holder and Little Falls has stepped into that place. Little Falls now has a member of congress, executive agent of the game and fish commission, deputy United States marshal and member of the board of university regents. If there is another position our up-river neighbor wants, we would be glad to help them get it."

CREAMERIES ARE READY MONEY

During Last Year the Creameries of Todd County Brought Over $400,
000 to its Farmers

The Long Prairie Leader last week devoted over two pages to the creamery business of Todd county. During last year the creamery patrons of Todd county received over $400,000 not counting the border creameries, like Motley, Osakis, etc., which are patronized by Todd county farmers. The Long Prairie creamery is the banner one in the county. Last year it paid to its patrons $89,833.70, an increase of more than $22,000 over 1908. The Clarissa creamery made an even greater increase in business done, paying out more than $23,000 over the previous year. This is due to the fact that we are right in the heart of the clover country of the world. So far as known there is no country or section on earth that equals Minnesota in the production of clover.

BRAINERD FIRM BRANCHES OUT

Hays-Weaver Milling Co., Buy Mill
at Edgeley, N. D., and Mr. Hays
Take Charge of Same

The Edgeley Mail says: The flouring mill here, which has been closed for some time past, is to be opened and milling operations begun as soon as the expert miller engaged by the company reaches here and can get the plant tuned up.

The new manager, H. G. Hays of Brainerd, Minn., (Hays-Weaver Milling Co.) manufacturer of Radisson flour, was a former Dakotan, having resided in what is now South Dakota and when the twins were known as Dakota territory. He is a western man, full of vim and enthusiasm, and will make the local enterprise go from the very start. Mr. Hays is an old newspaper man, and the founder of the Ipswich Gazette, that paper having been established before Edmunds county was organized, and before the Milwaukee road was extended from Aberdeen to the west. Mr. Hays filed upon and proved up on a claim in Edmunds county and at that time his claim cottage was the most westerly of any between Aberdeen and the Missouri river.

The new company proposes making Edgeley flour the best flour that can be made from the best wheat in the world, and as a specialty, will manufacture a superior pastry flour for which the grain of Pomona Valley is peculiarly adapted. This product will be put up in five pound cartons and be marketed in the east where special mill products meet ready sale and command fancy prices.

Of especial interest to the farming community is the statement by Mr. Hays: "We propose to exchange patent flour for wheat on the basis of 100 pounds of flour for three bushels of No. 1 Northern wheat and in addition 24 pounds of bran and 12 pounds of shorts. In other words we will give the farmer the highest market price for his grain and sell him his flour at the wholesale price of that commodity."

KILLED BY OBSTRUCTIONISTS

The Improvement of the Water Power and the Reduction of Electric Light Rates are Squelched

The Aitkin Age says: The proposed improvements of the Mud river waterpower, the reduction of electric light rates and the addition of a day current have been killed by the obstructionists. That the project had been killed has been known for a long time, as it has been evident that Mr. Claussen was through with triflers, but the remains were not buried officially until the council decided a few days ago not to submit the question to a vote. The people can't be trusted with the ballot, you know. Personal interest might suffer.

Tar water as a remedy many years ago in England became the universal nostrum. Horace Walpole tells that a man went into a chemist's shop and asked, "Do you sell tar water?" "Tar water!" replied the apothecary. "Why, I sell nothing else."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Byron's Troubadours.

Racine, Wis., Daily Journal:—The Byron Troubadours of Chicago, the first event in the Business Men's Lecture Course, was the attraction at the opera house Thursday evening. The hall was seated to its fullest capacity and the audience was thoroughly delighted with the entertainment. The Troubadours are possessed of rare talent and play various musical instruments and sing in a decidedly acceptable manner. Two or three instruments which had never before been played in this city were introduced. Nearly every number brought forth an encore and the gentlemen responded very pleasantly. Let it be said to the credit of the Troubadours that they are a company of gentlemen in every respect, and possess the ability to please the most critical audience.

Capt. Bogardus again Hits the Bull's Eye

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I have suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and have used several wellknown kidney medicines, all of which gave no relief until I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills I was subjected to severe backache and pains in my kidneys with suppression and oftentimes a cloudy voiding. While upon arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and once more feel like my own self. All this I owe solely to Foley's Kidney Pills and always recommend them to my fellow sufferers." For sale by all druggists.

CROSBY ITEMS

Architect Anthony Puck, came down from Duluth last week and inspected the Crosby hotel.

A. A. Roberts, the Duluth contractor, spent a few days at home and returned to Crosby Tuesday.

Levi Howard spent a few days in Brainerd last week.

Jim Brower came back from Brainerd and will start teaming again for A. A. Roberts.

Joe Rochow, of Duluth, has the plastering contract and commenced work Tuesday on the new hotel.

John A. Hoffbauer, of Brainerd, has the lathing on the new hotel over half completed. He has Marion and Douglas Cunningham of Deerwood, and H. S. Turner of Cuyuna, helping him.

The American Heating Co., of Duluth, installed a heating plant in the Crosby hotel, Charles Adams, of Superior, having charge of the work. With one assistant, Joe Morgenthaler, he put in 47 radiators and turned on steam in two weeks. R. R. Hudson put in the plumbing. Their work has given good satisfaction.

When R. R. Hudson returned to Superior the boys had a brick bat and a couple of pipe wrenches in his satchel and it was heart rending to see Rube walking across Serpent lake and wondering what made things so heavy.

Tuesday evening a pink tea was given at the Robert's camp in honor of Charles Adams and Joe Morgenthaler, who were to leave for Superior the next day. The refreshment booth was presided over by Henry Longtin. Music was furnished by Levi Howard and John Hoffbauer. The tables were tastefully decorated with festoons of yellow spaghetti and streamers of wienerswursts. It was the most successful society function ever pulled off in or around Crosby, within a radius of ten miles, barring none.

Familiar Song a Voice Restorer.

Thirteen years ago Jesse Everett of Monticello, N. Y., completely lost his voice, having once been a good singer. When he heard recently the strains of a familiar air played upon the piano he told his wife he thought he could sing again and did so with remarkable effect. Physicians are unable to explain the phenomenon.

WASH-DAY GRIEF

What an exasperating thing it must be for a woman on wash-day after getting all ready for the week's washing to find the family tub has shuffled off its hoops? But wood will shrink and hoops will fall.

In their place we offer galvanized iron tubs which are far superior in every way to a wooden tub, as they never leak, rust or break, and there are no hoops to fall off. They are lighter and easier to handle.

Of course we sell wooden tubs if you want them.

The New Mayor
Based on G.H. Broadhurst's Successful Play

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

Finding herself the unwilling witness to what promised to be a confidential talk, Dallas stole toward the door leading to the corridor, but Horrigan, as was his custom, had locked it on going out. She dared not enter alone the crowded anteroom in her present state, so hesitatingly she paused, forced to remain where she was. The sound of another voice chained her to the spot, and, unconscious of eavesdropping, she stood spellbound, hearing every word distinctly through the half open doorway.

"I—I hardly know how to begin," Gibbs was replying to Bennett's curt demand. "It is a delicate subject and—"

"Then the sooner it is treated to open air the better. Is?"

"You've won the Borough bill fight," began Gibbs.

"Is that all you have to say to me?" "No. You've won, but you've lost far more. You've lost Dallas Wainwright."

"I hardly need to be reminded of that," retorted Bennett, "and it is a subject I don't care to discuss."

"But listen," pleaded Gibbs as the mayor made a move as though to leave the room. "One minute! I say you've won the Borough fight. I've won Dallas. Can't we?"

"Well, what?" asked Bennett, with ominous quiet as he paused in his departure.

"Can't we—strike some sort of bargain?" said Gibbs tentatively.

"Explain, please," ordered Bennett, with that same deceptive calm.

"Why," went on Gibbs, emboldened at the other's seeming complacency, "suppose you give up this Borough fight and I give up Dallas? I won her by a trick. She doesn't really love me. It is her pride, not her heart, that made her throw you over and accept me. It is you she loves, and I've known it all along, and you are in love with her."

"What then?"

"Just this," returned Gibbs, wondering at Bennett's quiet reception of the strange offer. "She will marry me because she isn't the sort of girl to go back on her promise, especially since she looks on me as a sort of high-minded martyr to your oppression, so if I hold her to her word she will not back down. Now, if you, even now, withdraw your opposition the Borough bill will go through. Let it go through and I will break my engagement to Dallas Wainwright and leave her free to marry you."

"You promise that?"

"Yes!" cried Gibbs, elated, "I promise on my word of honor! Is it a bargain?"

"Gibbs," replied Alwyn slowly, "I didn't think there was so foul a cur as you in all the world."

"I thought I understood how utterly rotten you were, but I didn't believe there was a man living who could debase himself as you've just done."

"But"—began Gibbs, in bewilderment.

"Now you'll listen to me for a moment," cut in Bennett, silencing the interruption. "You say I'm in love with Miss Wainwright. It is true. I love her in a way a dog like you could never understand if he tried for a lifetime. I'd give my life for one word of love from her, but I'd sooner go forever without that word than win it by a dishonest deed that would prove me unworthy of her. I asked her love as a free gift and tried to deserve it. She refused, and I won't try to buy what she won't give me, especially since the price would make me as unworthy of her as you yourself are."

"But you take the wrong view of it. You see, if—"

"I see this much: I'll have to speak plainer to get my view of the case into your vile mind. If ever again you meet me, stand out of my way. Don't speak to me or come where I am, for if you cross my path again I'll treat you ten thousand times worse than when I thrashed you in that football game. That's all."

Bennett, restraining his wrath with a mighty effort, turned on his heel and strode off into the corridor, leaving Gibbs staring after him in dumb, impotent despair.

When the broker had recovered himself sufficiently to start from the room Dallas Wainwright stood before him,

"You promise that?"

"Yes!" cried Gibbs, elated, "I promise on my word of honor! Is it a bargain?"

"Gibbs," replied Alwyn slowly, "I didn't think there was so foul a cur as you in all the world."

"I thought I understood how utterly rotten you were, but I didn't believe there was a man living who could debase himself as you've just done."

MINERS TO BE TESTED.

If Unable to Pass Examination They Must Do Common Labor.

The miners' examining board at Wilkesbarre, Pa., decided the other day that every one of the 20,000 anthracite miners in Luzerne county, Pa., must be examined to prove his fitness. A great many have fraudulent and bogus certificates.

Arrangements will be made to close one colliery at a time for a day, and the miners of that colliery will then be examined. All those who cannot answer twelve questions relating to practical mining and cannot read and speak English will lose their places and will have to become laborers, but the coal companies will not be hampered, as they can place one miner in charge of two or three chambers.

With all the incompetent miners removed it is believed that the number of mine accidents will be reduced fully 50 per cent. It will take six months to complete the examination.

HOSPITAL IN A TREETOP.

Medical Missionary's Plan For Curing Consumption In Persia.

A cottage hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis, each cottage to be built in a treetop, was recently announced as the plan of Dr. Arthur Funk, a medical missionary of the Presbyterian church, for eradicating the disease in Persia. Dr. Funk obtained his idea from D. O. Steinberger, a resident of Urbana, O., whose home is in the branches of a giant oak.

When the Steinberger home was constructed its owner was a victim of pulmonary trouble. He now claims to be fully recovered and asserts that his life eighty feet above ground is responsible for his good health.

Dr. Funk and his wife are stationed at Hamadan, a city of 8,000 population, about 200 miles west of Teheran. They are confident that the treetop plan will materially reduce the number of tubercular cases in their district.

Self-laudation abounds among the unpolished, but nothing can stamp a man more sharply as ill bred.—Buxton.

STAR DUST TO CLARIFY MINDS

Professor Ormsby Sees Wonderful Things In Wake of Halley's Comet.

"The Halley comet, when it comes, will come like a cyclone," said Professor F. F. Ormsby before the Order of Nature at the Great Northern hotel the other afternoon in Chicago, "sweeping and clarifying the minds of men and will have a tendency to promote the study of the zodiac, which has been buried practically since the dark ages."

"The Halley comet really is an atmospheric arrangement of the planets, and when it comes in May I look for several interesting happenings, such as a rush to the study of the different signs, which we have here (pointing to a zodiacal chart). The star dust that will fall from the comet will have much effect on the minds of the people, but as to bodily injury from its coming there is nothing to that."

"The comet will open up a new cycle of thought and will inspire in the public the desire to learn of things higher up, above their present zone of thought."

Motion Pictures For the Insane.

The Nebraska state board of public lands and buildings will buy a moving picture machine for the amusement of the insane patients at the Norfolk asylum. Superintendent J. P. To Wage War on House Fly.

The common house fly is the object of a nation wide crusade that was recently launched against him at Washington. A moving picture campaign of education in theaters throughout the United States and in Canada was perfected by enthusiastic men and women, who have organized themselves into the special fly fighting committee of the American Civic association. By the moving picture films they expect to educate everybody to the dangers of the house fly and transform the population of the United States and Canada into an army that will make his existence short.

Airships Good For Smugglers.

An aviator has played tag with the customs officers of two nations at El Paso, Tex., remaining in the air thirteen minutes and covering fifteen miles in his flight. Charles K. Hamilton fluttered above El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, darting back and forth from one city to the other over the international boundary and demonstrating, as he declared he would, the practicability of the flying machine in smuggling operations.

Only Gloved Hands Pick "Sunkist" Oranges

We use great care in picking the famous "SUNKIST" ORANGES. Each "SUNKIST" ORANGE is picked from the tree and packed in the box by a gloved hand. No orange that falls to the ground is packed under the "SUNKIST" label.

"Sunkist" Navel Oranges Are Seedless

We grow 60% of all the California oranges. Three-fourths of all the lemons. Most of them are sold in bulk, but the choicest selections of this great quantity are wrapped in the "SUNKIST" label, so that if you would be sure that you get the choicest pick, insist upon the "SUNKIST."

Beautiful Orange Spoon FREE

Some dealers may claim the oranges they sell are the famous "SUNKIST," but that they have removed the wrapper. Insist on your dealer giving you oranges and lemons in the "SUNKIST" wrapper. If you do this we will give you a beautiful orange spoon—one of Rogers' best standard AA quality. Just send us twelve "SUNKIST" orange or lemon wrappers, with six 2c stamps to pay postage, packing, etc., and receive one of these beautiful spoons by return mail.

The choicest quality of lemons also go under the "SUNKIST" label. You can easily secure a whole dozen of these beautiful orange spoons. Get a dozen "SUNKIST" oranges or lemons today.
